General publication procedure outline

- (1) each publication is discussed in the relevant working group
- (2) if the working group comes to a consensus on its contents and form, it publishes the draft at the Twiki and asks IB to start the approval process
- (3) IB calls for comments (leaving 3 weeks time). Comments are published at the Twiki page, together with answers of the authors
- (4) if all commenting members are satisfied with the answers or with an updated draft, IB defines the author list and approves the submission
- (5) if the consensus in the working group cannot be achieved, IB invites the disagreeing parties to present the paper and the arguments at the DEPFET meeting (workshop, EVO meeting).
- (6) if the agreement is found here, proceed to (4)
- (7) if the agreement is not found, IB discusses the situation and takes further steps (nominating referees, etc.)
